

Boosting digital engagement

AS universities worldwide navigate the new reality of education, the University Malaysia of Computer Science & Engineering (UNIMY) is ensuring that it is not left behind.

UNIMY is leveraging on technological solutions to adapt to the new circumstances of teaching, whereby its academicians are using relevant technologies to hold online classes.

"Future students at UNIMY can look forward to more courses of the current programmes conducted online as well as full-online programmes, where students no longer need to come to campus.

"We are currently planning to develop UNIMY's own online learning platform and explore various new processes," said UNIMY vice chancellor Prof Datuk Ts Dr Mohd Razali Muhammad (pic).

Malaysia's premier digital technology university has also increased its online presence through numerous activities since all physical events were postponed or suspended. During the lockdown period, UNIMY reached out and stayed engaged with tech enthusiasts through training and seminar events held via the online platform. Some of the major events include:

• April 25: "Reimagining the Future of Technology in the era of Covid-19" – A live Industry@UNIMY session where top tech business influencers and chief executive officers such as Homam Alghorani, Patrick Klotz, Leza Klenk, Fauziah Sirat, Alish and Sameeta shared their thoughts on the topic. There was also a talk on blended learning and how it affects how people study and work from home presented by Vithia Paltore.

• April 30: "Towards A Digital Society: Are we ready for a disruptive new learn- ing experience?" – A live session with UNIMY's parent company Serba Dinamik Holdings Bhd Group managing director and chief executive officer Datuk Dr Ir Ts Mohd Abdul Karim Abdullah.

• May 11: UNIMY Tech Talk – Qatar Foundation education adviser Francisco Marmolejo talked about the impacts, implications and future scenarios for higher education amid Covid-19.

• June 5 – For the very first time, UNIMY students got to showcase their amazing FYP Projects on the @unimyofficial YouTube channel, in which the UNIMY vice-chancellor delivered a heartfelt message to encourage them during these challenging times.

• June 9: Graduate Seminar and Alumni Sharing Session – Talks on Industrial Revolution 4.0 by Malaysian Industry-Government Group for High Technology president and chief executive officer Datuk Dr Mohd Yusoff Sulaiman and UNIMY Alumni Sharing by SEC Consult penetration tester Azrul Ikhwan Zulkifli.

• June 23: Graduate Seminar and Alumni Sharing Session – Talks on "Digital Transformation" by Urbanetic chief executive officer and co-founder Saibal Sas Chowdhury and UNIMY Alumni Sharing by Petronas cyber security analyst Eunice Wong.

UNIMY also garnered interest in its Computer Science & Engineering, Cyber Security, Game Development, Interactive Media & Management Information Systems programmes through online workshops hosted from March to July.
